THE DOME OF THE CAPITOL.—The National Intelligencer says the magnificent Dome of the Capitol, designed by Thos. U. Walter, and now in course of construction under his direction, is rapidly progressing to completion. The principal frame of the structure has been completed, the ribs of the enpola have been put in place, and the plates, which constitute the outer covering, are being set, and will be finished before the close of next month. After this shall have been done, nothing will be left to complete the exterior of the dome but About two hundred and seven thousand e past year, and in the same period about one million one hundred and eighty-five thousand pounds of the same material have been put up. The whole quantity of iron received from the beginning of the work up to the present time was about seven and a half milns of pounds, and, according to the estimates of the architect, about eight hundred thousand pounds more will be needed to complete the work. The dome will be crowned with Crawford's gigantic and imposing statue of Freedom, which is nineteen and a half feet high, and weighs about fifteen thousand pounds. This statue is made entirely of bronze and is composed of five sections, the weight of the heaviest of which is about five thousand pedestal in the east grounds of the Capitol The screw-bolts which now blemish it will be removed when It is put in place, and a rich and uniform bronze tint will be imparted to it The entire cost of the statue was about $25, 000. The sum of $700,000 has been appropriated by Congress for the dome, the most of which has been expended. The original estimate of the cost of the dome was $945,000; the distinguished architect, by rigid ceon omy and a reduction of the weight of the structure, has been enabled to bring down the statue, to about $200,000. NEW COAL BANK .- An investigation is now going on, under the ausliees of experienced, scientific and practical men, which promises the most flattering results in the discovery of coal at the base of "Bunker Hill," the southern suburbs of Vinecones, Indiana, on the land of Rev. Bishop St. Palais. The Sun says thnt, already, at the threshold of the "prospeeting," fine specimens of bituminous and cnnnel eoal have been lound, with indication of a three-foot vein of the former and a fourfoot vein of the latter. Some uf the coal discovered has been used at the gas works with entire satisfaction.

When this happens they are loosened from their traces, shot in the head and thrown to one side, and the train passes on. How much to be pitied are these dumb, thithful brutes, living on hard tolder, dragging heavy teams through the mud all day, and standing in the chill air all night, and then shot to death without mercy when unable to put one foot before the other! "CHALK YOUR BOBBINS,"—Every one knows that old Sir Robert Perl, father of the late Prime Minister of England, and grandfather of the present baronet, made his money extensive, but suddenly he made a fremendoms start, and soon distanced all his rivals. He grew immensely rich, as we all know, but we do not all know the lucky necident to which he was indebted for his coormons wealth.

In the early days of the cotton spinning machinery a great deal of trouble well to be cuised by filaments of cotton adhering to the bobliss or tages which then formed portions of oins or tapes which then formed portions of come. These filaments accumulating, scon-clogged the wheels and other parts of the un-thinery, and rendered if necessary that they should be cleaned, which involved frequent

The great desideratum was to find out som plan of preventing fills clogging by the cotton and Sir Bubert, or Mr. Peel, as lee was their spent vast suns in experiments. He employed -among them James Watt-who suggested various corrections; but spite of all they con peared to be insurmountable.

Of course these delays seriously allected the wages of the operatives, who on Saturdays generally came short in proportion to the stoppages during the previous days. It was not ed, however, that one man always drew h full pny, his work was always accomplished in fact, his loom never had to stop, while ever other in the factory was idle. Mr. Peel wa informed of this, and knew there must be a secret somewhere. It was important that it should be discovered, if possible.

The man was watched, but all to no purpose; his lellow workmen triel to "pump" him, but they couldn't; at last Mr. Peel sent for the man into his private office.

It was a rough Langushire man, unable to read or write; little better, indeed, than a mere auimal. He entered the presence, pulping his forelook and shuffling on the ground with his "Dick," said Mr. Peel, "Ferguson, the over looker, tells me your bobbins are alway clean, is that so?"

"Be's master, t be.

It is very foreible remarks in explanation of General cratifying to have the concurrent testimony of Boyle's Order excluding negroes from the cithout a total disregard of health, comfort, and life, should not be converted ino a mortality box by crowding twice or the death of a thousand loved ones, who have fortable homes for the defence of their country, and have become the victims of disease of iberty, unless oath is made that the own er is and has been loyal; and no office or surrender up ingitives on pain of dismissa from the service. This, stripped of legal ve biage, is the gist of the laws defining the re lation of military and naval officers to fugitive and other slaves. There is nothing making younds. The same may be said of a town or bligatory upon Generals or subordinates illige selected as a General Hospital for the omman I to receive into their eamps or wit sick and disabled of our army. If the capacit and sanitary arrangements of a town a and attention to even that number; if the water is bad and the place notoriously an unhealth e denied that if a Heneral can exclude whi ocality, it is clearly a most inhuman cv. men, such as now paper correspondents, & sight to crowd four to six thousand sick men he has power to dispense with the presence into such a place and thereby create "bircum stances' under which all the sympathy the But if there were laws requiring comman may be bestowed, all the skill that may be ng officers to receive fugitive slaves withi xercised, and all the tears and prayers a

It is with pride that we are able to asser but a more devoted, kind-hearfed, sympa hetic, and attentive people to the .ic soldiers cannot be found in any section of ountry than throughout our State, and circumstances' as we have depicted. Perranngement, but we have had our hear icken at the recital of cases. Our presen ttention has been particularly called to thi ubject by an earnest profest against the reorted order for the removal of the convalu ent barracks to Bowling Greeu. Already ve are told there are several thousand sich nd dying soldiers placed there in badly ven ospitals, in a town of two thousand inha tants, and left in the charge of surgeons an tewards, whose legitimate duty, stretched o only one fourth the number. Despite a ie exertions and sacrifices of these over orked officials, it is, therefore, n many from dying with unkempt hair and unwashed taces, and their bodies in this condithus for a time await their turn of the hearse Now it is clear that the system which admits and all other loyal Kentuckiaus join carnestly n this trust. Cel. It. B. Reed, of the 44th Regimen Indiana Volunteers, having resigned his com mand, arrived here last night from Nashville on his return to his home at Fort Wayne, Ind The Colonel bears with him the colors of his gallant regiment, on which Governor Morton poses to have inscribed Donelson, Shileh, and Corinth, the names of the bloody fields on which it was triumphantly borne and gallantly defended. The honored old emblem looks faded and worn. It bears pytdence that at least twenty-four of the enemy's missiles passed through its folds, while the staff has been fractured in three places. Nine men who carried this flag on those hardly-coutested fields were either killed or wounded, Indiana is justly proud of the efficient and gallant officers and the brave men of the 41th, No regiment has done better service hot dequitted itself with more credit than this. It pursued the enemy from Corinth to Boonville, Niss. Thence it marched to Huntsville, Ala. blind to Battle creek, Tenn. It made the long march from Balete creek to Louisville, and from there's back again through Kentucky, to Nashville, participating in all the skirmishes with the enemy during the march.

Mr. Warner, of the Kentucky Esting House, informs us that our notice of Tuesday of his good fortune in the form of a present of a little babe was somewhat inaccurate as to the sex of the infant, as it was a mate. in making the request for attoluer contribution it appears that we misapprehended him, and asked for the donation of a male child, and, in accordance with the request, an interesting infant of that description was left in his hall upon that subject, as reported in the N. Y. ast evening by some unknown person. He feels duly thankful for the small favors, having adopted each as his own, but insists that parents shall have some regard for his tastes in the bestowment of their favors. For the completion of the trio, he trusts that some fond mother will contribute a child of the femiline gender. Until such contribution shall have been made the door of his hursery will be open Mongan in Kentucky .- There is every reason to believe that John Morgan with a pretty strong force is on this side of the Green river He was at Glasgow, by report, the middle of hast week, and as the river is now fordable at almost any point he may have taken ndvantage of that fact to attempt another thieving expedition. But it will be utterly impossible for him to make any further advance, as Gen. Gilbert's disposition of his forces will quickly cheek any such effort. We have troops at Lebanon, Columbia, Munfordville, along the Lebanon branch, and in a line of stockades from Shepardsville to Munfordville in sufficient numbers to give him a warm reception wherever he makes his appearance.

The remains of our late fellow-citizen Robert J. Ward were followed to the buryingground yesterday evening by a very large number of deeply sympathizing friends. All seemed to experience feelings of personal be reavenuent. It was a pleasant and touching sight, when the grave was filled, to see the little grandson of the deceased, a lovely child of six years, advance and lay three beautiful and superb wreaths of flowers upon the solemn mound-a sweet and appropriate farewell to the venerable object of his young heart's love and idolatry.

The remains of Lieutenant Nicholas Wynkoop, of the 7th Pennsylvania cavalry, who was killed during the eugagement at Gallatin, Tennessee, on the 21st of August last, reached Pottsville, Penn., on Wednesday of last week. Col. Wynkoop, who had theu in charge, arrived there the evening before On Thursday the remains were interred with military honors in the Presbyterian burying ground. Lieut. Wynkoop distinguished himself in the engagement in which he fell, and was mentioned with honor by the commanding general.

THEATRE. - This evening Miss Maggie Mitchell repeats Fanchon, the Cricket, for the last time, as to-morrow night she produces the new five act comedy of Hermance, the Child of Fortune, for her benefit, and will of course play it twice. If, therefore, nny one desires to see the most charming part of Fnnchon by our charming little favorite, let him remember that to-night's opportunity is the last, unti Miss Maggie returns to us after the next vernal equinox to cheer us with the April showers and May flowers.

lligh School Lecture.-The next lecture in the course will be delivered to-night at half-past seven o'clock. The interest in these is continually increasing, and it is only to b regretted that the room is not large enough to accommodate the throngs who nightly go to hear them. We are requested to say that children will not be admitted unless they are accompanied by their parents or some adult | evening. friend, with whom they must sit while in the

The Scientific American has increased its price of subscription to three dollars a year, on account of the enhanced expense of printing materials. It should be increased to five dollars for its intriusic value, as it is the most practical work on general science that we have ever seen, and keeps up squarely to all the great improvements of the day.

Captain Waltman, of the Niath Pennsylvania Cavalry, who, as Provost Marshat and as commander of the battalion of hi regiment, has rendered such efficient service in the vicinity of Bowling Green recently will leave this city for Bowling Green this

The extensive brewery of Mr. Henr Holt, in the upper suburbs of Jeffersonville was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The building contained a large amount of grain, which was not insured, and the loss was heavy.

Captain Hull received from Cincinnati yesterday for army use fifteen hundred pairs of drawers, ten thousand blaukets, and two thousand five hundred overcoats. The Rev. D. J. Purdy has been appointed Chaplain to the hospitals in New Albany

There were brought in some hundred or more secesh prisoners, to be sent to Louisville, and they were taken to the freight depot, some three squares below the passenger debot. At the passenger depot there were about the same number of last Tablesseeans, going I don't know where. About half an hour before train time there ppeared at the passenger depot some four or five finely dressed female "sympathizers," atended by a small army of serbatte, leading reat mathet and clotnes haskets filled with Il kinds of substantials and delicacies of the nest kind, and asked the "poor fellows" if they lidn't want something to eat. "Certainly we lo," said they; and in they pitched to the nice things. About this time it was as much as nany of the bystanders could ile to "hold in." But before the "poor fellows" had hardly satis fled the liner man the aforemid ifeliale syn athikers" directered their mistake, and, running to a captain or lieutenant, desired him to "make those men stop." It was too late. I would have taken all of our major generals to have made "those men stop." And then such aughing, such hollowing, such shouting and uch screaming of iten, boys, white and black, ald and folling, was never witnessed before i ur good city; and could those "females" have seen themselves as "others saw them' they would, I think, have gone home and minded their babies, those who had them, and those who had not, to prepare "the little fixins" for that Which Providence might some thay send, rather than again he fairly caught publicly feeding, with the best to be had, those

THE PENINSULA CAMPAIGN. ORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN HALLECK AND MCCLELLAN.

Washington, Dec. 2. General Halleck has written to Secretary tantou an exceedingly long report of militar oregetions since the Ad of July last, with lellan to see whether there was any probability of success by that mode of advancing of the first and left of the some pian for unting Pope's and McClellan's armies on Ipon arriving at Harrison's Landing, Melellan told him be must have at least 50,000 lditional troops, Halleck estimated that 20,-) was the utinost number that gould possini to consider. He then told Halleck he would make an attack on Richmond with the 0,000 reinforcements. With that understanding Halleck returned to Washington. There he eccived a despatch from McChellan, saying he only not leave without 35,000. It being wholly impossible then to furnish this number, Hallock ordered the with hawn of the army from the Peninsula. McClellan at once ferwarded the following protest:

Berkley, Va., Aug. 4-12 M. Major-General Halleck, Commander -Chief: Your telegram of last evening is ceived. I must confess that it has caused me the greatest pain I ever experienced, for I am convinced that the order to withdraw this army to Aquila creek will prove disastrous in the extreme is done and a called the extreme to our cause. Headquarters of the Army, Washington, Nov. 23, 1862. To this, General Halleck returned the folowing reply: WASHINGTON, Aug. 6, 1862.

Major-General Mc Clellan, Communiting, etc Borkley, Va.: General, your telegraph of yesterday was eccived this morning, and I immediately telegraphed a brief reply, promising to write yo more fully by mail. You, General, certainl uld not have been more pained at receivia my order than I was at the necessity of issing it. I was advised by high officials, i whose judgment I have great confidence, nake the order imagediately on my arriv ere, but I determined not to do so until uld learn your wishes from a personal inte iew, and even after that interview I trie every means in my power to avoid withdraw-ing your army, and delayed the decision as long as I dared to delay it. I assure you, Gen-eral, it was not hasty and inconsiderate, but on the contrary, it entised me more anxiety ature consideration of all the pros and cons l was reluctantly forced to the conclusion that the order must be issued. There was my mind no alternative. Allow me to alde to a few of the facts of the ease. You and your officers at one of the interviews est ated the enemy's force in and around Rich nond at two hundred thousand men then you and others report that they have r ceived and are receiving large re-enforcement from the South. Gen. Pop's army, now cov ering Washington, is only forty thousand e other in ease of such an attack. 'ope's army be demanded to re-raforce yo Vashington, Pennsylvania, and Maryla would be left uncovered and exposed. If you force be reduced to strengthen Pope, yo would be too weak to hold the position yo ow occupy, should the enemy turn round and ttack you in full force. In other words, the ld army of the Potomac is split in piece with the entire force of the enemy direct etween them. They can't be united by land rithout exposing both to destruction; and et they must be united. To send Pope's force ily alternative is to send the forces on the eninsula to some point by water, ay Fred icksburg, where the two armies can be Let me now allude to some of the objection which you have urged. Yousay to withdraw from the present position will cause the co-ain demoralization of the army, which is now nexcellent discipling and condition. I cannot derstand why a simple change of position a new, and by no means distant, base will mornlize an army in excellent discipline, dess the officers themselves assist in the de-oralization, which I am satisfied they wil ot. Your change of front from your extreme ight at Hanover C. II, to your present position was over thirly miles; but I have not heard g the severe losses they sustained in effec A new base on the Rappaliannock, at Fred ment of 40,000 or 50,000 fresh and disciplined troops. The change, with such advantages, will, I think, if properly represented to you army, encourage rather than demoralize you troops. Moreover, you yourself suggested that a junction might be effected at Yorktown; but that a flank march across the Peainsulawould be more hazardous than to retire to Fortress Monroe. You will remember that Yorktown is two or three miles further from Richwond than Fredericksburg is; besides the ent of 40,000 or 50,000 fresh and discipling ichmond than Fredericksburg is; besides thatter is between Richmond and Washington and covers Washington from any attack by the enemy. The political effect of the with frawal may at first be unfavorable; but hink the public are beginning to understan as necessity and that they will have much more confidence in a united army than is separate fragments. But you will reply, wh

PLCAPITATING GENERALS.

Between the accession of President Lincoln and the attack upon Fort Sumpter, with thickng men, the doubt was common and very sainful and humiliating, whether any of the erling loyalty of 1776 survived the corrupions of party and the degeneracy of the age. whether, indeed persistent loyalty was possile, toward such a mere abstraction as a con titutional and free government without an hereditary head. The glorious uprisings of the General Jones is in Richmond sick. Another question has since arisen, equally nomentous, and not yet solved: Can the Exeutive of such a country adjust itself firmly to a wise and persistent policy, in the conduct of a war? Can it adjust itself nicely and ef ectively to the military power? Or, is the decapitation of Generals, not immediately or student of llistory, and lover of his country which existed in numy quarters. On respondence of the Louisville Journal | AN INCIDENT OF THE KENTUCKY CAMPAIGN AN INCIDENT OF THE KENTUCKY CAMPAIGN.

A VSHVILLE, TENN., NOV. 28, 1862.

The campaign in Kentucky properly begins with our advance from Bowling Green, us no conflict between Buell's and Bragg's forces occurred until after we advanced from that place. But we had only gone some ten miles, when our advance guard, composed of a company of the Lindson and one from the lat key. the all indicina, and one from the 1st Ken-tucky, met their rear guard, and had a sharp conflict. L'apt. Alexander, of Wayne county, Ky., had the honor of commanding this first attack. He was ordered torward with his attack. He was ordered toward with the company, and soon came up to au ambush of the enemy, a little over one hundred strong, and while the company of the 2d Indiana deployed to the left, Capt. Alexander charged them in front with but forly men. As this ployed to the left, Capt. Alexander chingen them In front with but forly men. As this was the first chirge, and was most galiantly executed, we will give a somewhat full description of it. The enemy concealed a hundred men in a thick woods, and then sent a few out upon the road, Intending for our men to charge up the road after these few, natifity came even, and then they would fire upon our llank. They had a cart out in the road, and a log or stove-pipe upon it, to check our men, as if it were a piece of cannon. The cry went down the line—' a cannou' a cannou' when Capt. Alexander ordered his men to follow him, and charge the enemy, cannon or no rannon. At the same time, his hat falling off, he charged forward with his long red hair streaming in the wind like a torch of fire; and with his pistol in hand, he shouled, 'torward,' and as he reached the suppo ed cannon, he'ordered "right wheel, ' and then raising himself in his stirrups, he shouled at the the top of his voice, as he saw the enemy in ambush, "Bounce them, boys! bounce them!" and firing, and they were clearly tree minutes they went, shouting and firing, and they were clearly tree minutes they were clearly and firing, and they were clearly tree minutes they were clearly and firing.

their mules they went, shouting and firing, and in two minutes the woods were cleared, and three of the enemy left dead, and several escaped badly wounded. Their lire tell harmless around our men, and the rest of the reginent coming up formed in line of battle and marched forward, expecting to meet the eucmy in force. They had not gone more than two miles when quite a brisk skirmish occurred, but Capt. Carter, upon the left wing, flunked the enemy with his company, and after a loss of some six men killed, the enemy flead in confusion gratin. fled In confusion again. oon after the occupation of Bell's Tavern Licett, Wolford and Capit, Howell, with some four men, went out to see who was approaching. They soon saw a Licetenaut and three men dashing forward, and thry awaited their approach and then took them in and brought them to headquarters. They reported to Col McCook that they had made a mistake and had been captured, but if they had to be captured. ccook that they had made it intribute in that are exputered, but if they had to be exputered, by would rather be taken by Wolford's cavaly than any other men, for although they ought them hard they had always treated their risoners well. The gallant 34 Kentucky has an advance the next day, and after a brisk cirmish took some chiefy pricance at Cava from Munfordville. From this place Major Owen, of the 1st Kentucky, took four companies of Wolford's regiment and n part of the 2d Indiana, and went to the Mammoth Cave to fight any force that might be there. There is no braver other in the service than I for them and every one should shout at the top of his voice. Hell turned loose would hardly have outshouted our men as they charged down upon them, discharging their guns into the woods, and with pi tals in hand they charged around them, until after about twenty minutes firing they broke and fled into the thick woods and underbrush. They gathered up all they could lind out of sink-holes and through the brush, but it was nearly dark and through the brush, but it was nearly dark and through the brush, but it was nearly dark and they only found about one hundred, who were mounted behind the boys and entried in triuph back to Cave City that night; while the Colonel, with the largeo part, was securing the prisoners, Capts, Alexander, Honnell, and Lient. Wolford, with some sixty men, charged forward after the train and the cavalry, but they had gotten so much the start that it was dusk before they overtook the train, and captured or dispersed the drivers, but the mules in the trail rushed forward, and although we pursued them until within three miles of Bragg's camp, we did not think it prodent to sattempt to bring oll more than the three rear waggns loaded with flour, which we brought back in triumph to the rest of the regiment.

Three of the boys, however, not yet satified f the enemy's camp. The battalion again roke and floi, and our boys purmed, firing pon them, killing one dead, and wounding camp of the for and returned safely. Thus ended one of the most brilliant affairs of the campuigu, in which 350 of Wolfard's men charged, and routed a regiment of infants.
